I want to apologize deeply and sincerely to the people of Fulton County for apparently delaying the vote counting at Hickman on Tuesday night, by some twenty minutes. You see, I was charged with delivering the tally sheets to the courthouse on Tuesday night and some last minute details for gathering the vote tabulations in five counties, the State and the Nation made it necessary for me to spend a little time at the radio station before I journeyed to Hickman to deliver the tally sheets.

The delay was unavoidable. I was just as concerned with giving the voters of Fulton County and West Kentucky the fullest, complete returns of the election as I was in delivering the tally sheets. It is no small task to coordinate the staff of WFUL, the staff at the Fulton News and various and sundry tabulators in Mayfield, Clinton and other points to gather the returns as fast as they come in. Yet, Paul and I know that it was our responsibility to get the tally sheets there on time and that was that. We didn't, we are truly sorry.

Sheriff John Rose was most perturbed at my delay. Publicly he denounced me in front of some 100 people at the courthouse for the delay. He was justified in that denouncement since I made it well known that he delayed the vote counting in the May primaries by some two hours because he had the keys to the ballot boxes in his pocket while he "served some papers" on the night of the election.

Paul and I were up to our necks in getting the news gathering machinery into effect. But that is an insufficient alibi. We should have had those tally sheets there regardless of our own personal responsibilities. The voters have the right to know how the balloting resulted as soon as possible regardless of any other circumstances that may arise in the routine of a public official or in normal duties of newspaper publishers and radio station managers.

Like Ro Gardner of the Hickman Courier, like Vyrion Mitchell of the Daily Leader and like any other good newspaper person it is necessary for reporters to get the returns as they are counted. It is necessary then that we watch the tabulators as they complete a count of each precinct so that we can call in to our respective sources so that people will know the outcome of the election.

None of us want special privileges. It is impossible to get the complete tabulations sitting in the back of the courtroom with all the din and confusion of the spectators wanting to know, just as all other citizens want to know, who do not get to the courthouse. That's where our job comes in. We like to feel sometimes that we can get that help from public officials.

As a newspaper editor I feel it is my sincere duty to report the news as it is made... good bad or indifferent. A newspaper, like a public office, should be in the public domain. When a newspaper gets to the point where it is a public service instrument for special groups... it is a sad day for the community it serves. By the same token, when a public official gets to the point where he thinks his office is his own private balliwick, when he serves the people who voted for him and holds contempt for those who didn't... that public official is in a sad and dangerous predicament.

Again let me apologize for the delay I caused. It was an unavoidable yet inexcusable error.

KENTUCKY GOES TO REPUBLICANS

CLEMENTS

MORTON

Clements Leading In See-saw Returns

Clements Apparently Defeated

At 8:00 p. m. Wednesday night, with very little but Republican counties to be counted, Clements led Morton by a few hundred votes.

Clements refused to concede, but did not claim victory. His close advisors say the Morton plurality may reach 10,000.

It was learned that the seventh and eighth districts of Kentucky preponderantly Republican are still mainly unreported with Kentucky's First District and the Second districts, preponderantly Democratic, almost all reported.

The total state vote at five o'clock Wednesday afternoon gives Morton, 421,294; Clements, 424,569.

In the first district of Kentucky, the vote was nearly all in with Graves County and McCracken County and Christian County still to report half of their individual county precincts.

The vote by counties in the First District is as follows with Morton's vote first.

Ballard, complete, 655, 3088.
Caldwell, complete, 2313, 2616.

Calloway, eight short, 1765, 6292.

Carlisle, complete, 452, 1910
Christian, half complete, 2546, 4366.

Crittenden, complete, 2186, 1573.

Fulton, complete, 739; 3058.

Graves, 32 out of 57, 1938, 6261.

Hickman, complete, 590, 2358.

Livingston, one short, 1007, 1918.

Logan, 11 out of 27, 1004, 1699.

Lyon, complete, 814, 1468.

Marshall, complete, 1659, 4501.

McCracken, 21 of 58, 1797, 3663.

Muhlenberg, complete, 4767, 5214.

Todd, complete, 1265, 3023.

Trigg, complete, 1082, 2488.

Total vote, on the basis of incomplete returns, 26,629, 55,496.

The First District on the basis of incomplete returns had thus far given Senator Clements a 28,867 vote lead. With a heavy vote reported in Christian, Graves, Logan, and McCracken county, where the vote was only half tabulated, the majority may give Senator Clements perhaps another five or six thousand added to the 28,867, making a total of some 35,000 vote lead.

DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER

Spooking Pays Profits For Noddy Kiddlees All Over World

A total of $96.75 was collected by Fulton's little goblins on Halloween night in the third annual program of UNICEF, which calls on Halloween fun-lovers to help young people all over the world. Instead of the usual "trick or treat" the youngsters threatened with "Trick or Treat for UNICEF." Cooperative Fultonians responded and poured a total of 9675 pennies in to the trick or treat bags.

Following their charitable "spooking" the youngsters attended community parties in the various churches around town where games, favors and refreshments were given to children of all ages for their help for underprivileged children all over the world.

EKE TO START NEW TERM WITH SPLIT REGIME

First President In 100 Years To Have This Happen

Mr. Eisenhower will be the first President in a century to start a new term with both Houses of Congress against him.

The Democrats already have won control of the House and seem likely to increase their majority in the Senate as well.

This picture shows the election was a great personal triumph for the President rather than a Republican party victory.

It was back in 1848 that General Zachary Taylor was elected President on the Whig ticket—but the Democrats won both the House and Senate.

The Democrats have retained control of the House of Representatives and appear on their way to keeping a majority in the Senate.

One of the hottest races—in Oregon—ended with Democratic Senator Wayne Morse defeating Republican Douglas McKay, the former interior secretary.

J. B. Parker Also Wins Honor With Shorthorn

H. E. Garrigan III, a Fulton 4-H Club boy, paraded his heavy Angus calf through a field of 100 animals in Murray Monday to emerge with grand championship honors at the fourth annual District FFA and 4-H Beef show and sale.

Giving him a run for his money was another 4-H lad from Ballard County, Jackie Buchanan, who wound up in second place with his reserve grand champion Hereford. The animal was the champion of the Hereford class. Buchanan, who lives at Barlow, also won the 4-H division of the showmanship class. The FFA showmanship class was won by Jimmy Thompson of Murray Training School chapter. The second best Hereford animal was owned and shown by Robert Hamblen of Hickman FFA. Copping the Angus reserve breed—championship was Miss Inez Todd, Calloway County 4-H Club member. Shorthorn breed honors went to J. B. Parker of Fulton 4-H and the reserve breed championship to Larry Armstrong of Lynn Grove FFA.

Wetherby Loses To Republican Cooper

The warm, personal popularity to David Dwight Eisenhower swept the Republican party back into the White House on Tuesday, and in the tremendous Eisenhower landslide the traditionally Democratic State of Kentucky catapulted into the Republican balliwick.

For, perhaps as few as three times in the history of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, the ten electoral votes of Alben Barkley's democratic Kentucky will be cast for a Republican president. Ironically, the unexpired term of the late beloved "Mr. Democrat" himself, has been captured by Republican John Sherman Cooper.

Former Democratic Governor Lawrence W. Wetherby fared badly at the polls on Tuesday against Republican, former ambassador to India, Cooper. At press-time on Wednesday, Wetherby was trailing Cooper by some 40,000 votes.

In spite of the fact that Kentucky's Governor A. B. (Happy) Chandler received one of the largest majorities ever accorded a Democratic Governor in the general election last year, Kentucky fell to the mighty onslaught of the Eisenhower popularity. Chandler, who gave only token support to his party in this campaign, made no secret of the fact that the two Democratic candidates were not his favorite people.

Primarily interested in his $100,000,000 road bond issue the Chandler Administration took a "hands off" policy in the Democratic Senatorial race. The bond issue passed easily at the polls on Tuesday.

In Fulton County Eisenhower made little head-way over his total in 1952. However, the total does indicate that more Democrats voted for Eisenhower in this year's election than they did in 1952. County Court Clerk Kathryn Lannom said that approximately 300 Republicans were registered for the 1956 general election. Eisenhower's total vote was 1147. In 1952 the county rolls listed 673 Republican voters, while Eisenhower received 1200 votes.

In one Fulton County precinct alone, in Fulton 3-A, there were 18 registered Republicans, while Eisenhower received 158 votes. In this precinct Cooper also received his largest single vote of any precinct in the county.

Observers at the polls indicated that the 4260 votes cast in this election was the largest turn-out of voters in the history of the county. In 1952, the voter turn-out was 3952.

COOPER ANSWERS WIRE RECEIVED FROM WETHERBY

Senator-elect John Sherman Cooper has acknowledged a telegram from his defeated Democratic opponent, former Governor Lawrence W. Wetherby, in which Wetherby conceded the senatorial election.

Here is the text of Cooper's telegram:

"I thank you very much for your kind telegram and for your generous good wishes. I hope to see you soon, and in the meantime my wife and I send you and Mrs. Wetherby kindest wishes."

In a victory statement Cooper said he was "very glad" about his election to the United States Senate.

He said "my first thoughts are of the people of Kentucky for their generous expression of confidence and trust, and for my fellow candidate, Thurston B. Morton, who has made such a courageous and inspiring fight."

WATER ISSUE IS SOUNDLY BEATEN

The fluoridation referendum was soundly defeated at the polls on Tuesday, after some spirited campaigning on behalf of and against the issue. Final vote was: 263 for, 1071 against.

In other election news: Felix Gossum and Dr. Ward Bushart were elected to the Fulton Independent School District. They had no opposition but a flock of write-in votes were cast. Among those who received votes were: Joe Smith, E. J. McCollum, Dr. M. W. Blankenship, Bert Newhouse, C. W. Whitnel, Jo Westpheling, Elvis Babb, Bill Browning, J. A. Willingham, Ward Johnson, and Edmond Khourie, who receives some kind of write-in vote in nearly every election.

C. A. Turner defeated Arlie Batts for a position on the school board in Fulton School No. 1.

Jimmy Shaw defeated Dr. R. H. White for a position on the school board in the Hickman School District.

J. A. Willingham was elected magistrate with no opposition, but Bones Forrest received one write-in vote.

Noble Gregory was elected for First District Congressman with no opposition.

Diary of Doin's

By Mary Nelle Wright

Hear Mary-Nelle's program, "My Fair Lady" every day on WFUL at 9:30 a.m., Monday through Friday.

The Witches, Goblins and Spooks have been folded—and put away—for another year. It was a GOOD Halloween! And a FRUITFUL one because the latest report on the UNICEF parties brought the total of pennies, nickels and dimes collected by the SPOOKS to the amount of $98.75. The plan of the UNICEF parties teaches our children the JOY of SHARING with needy children of other lands. Mavis Moore and Joan Baird, co-chairmen of the parties are to be congratulated for the wonderful work they did.

Of course, some of the older Spooks had their fun, too. And—your Diarist had a visit from some of those youngsters. But let me tell you about it. Frankly, the SPOOKS who visited us were just about the most ENTERPRISING crew of SPIRITS—that we've ever known.

In front of my little shop, "The Acorn House" across from the Derby Cafe, I have always pointed—with pride—to a multi-colored, hand carved, real Indian Totem Pole. It was given to my dad, many years ago and was made by a part-Indian who declared it to be an exact replica of the Totems representing the tribe of his ancestors.

For years, it has been enjoyed by tourists from every state—and a few from foreign soil. In fact, it has been the best "conversation piece" you could imagine!

But, to get on with the story—the day after Halloween—we looked around the house and yard and felt so SMUG in the thought that it was SO nice to live OUTSIDE of the town—where the SPOOKS never molested you. This feeling continued for a couple of days—until one day at noon, a KIND soul from Crutchfield called us and said, "The SPOOKS from SOMEWHERE have a TOTEM POLE out here, and you know what they've done. They've set it up in the middle of Crutchfield—put benches around it—and have a big sign saying, CRUTCHFIELD CITY PARK!"

ENTERPRISING—I'd say, wouldn't YOU.

HERE AND THERE

Bonnie (Mrs. Harry) Reams has returned from one of the most wonderful trips we can imagine. She attended the World Peace United Nations Seminar, which was held in New York City on Oct. 22-25 for the combined Memphis and Michigan Methodist Church Conferences.

And we think it is a singular honor that Bonnie had the opportunity to attend the conference. We were interested to know that the Paris District chose the Fulton Methodist Church to represent the District and the Wesley Gleaners' Class selected Bonnie and sponsored her trip.

All of the representatives from the Memphis Conference made the trip by car and they had an interesting time enroute as well as on their return.

They spent a day in Washington where they toured the Capitol, saw the White House, the Lincoln Memorial, the Pentagon and also spent a brief time in Arlington National Cemetery where they saw the changing of the guards at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

From Washington they had a short visit in Philadelphia where they saw the Liberty Bell in Independence Hall. They spent a few minutes in the Assembly Room where the Declaration of Independence was adopted.

In New York they took the Staten Island Ferry where they viewed the Statue of Liberty as well as the Manhattan skyline. A trip up to the top of the Empire State Building afforded them a magnificent view of the city and the New York harbor.

But of course, the highlight of the trip was the time the group spent in the United Nations, which is, the Number One tourist attraction in New York City. Here they attended the sessions of the Seminar. Dr. Charles Boss, Executive Secretary of the Board of World Peace of the Methodist Churches in America, gave an inspirational message to the group, using as his subject, "The Churches of Russia." Dr. Boss serves in the capacity of Observer for the Methodist Churches of the United Nations. He was in Moscow during the Geneva Peace Conference and spoke at a church there. He cited several incidents as proof that all Russians do not want war which was an encouraging thought to all who attended the Seminar.

Bonnie Reams will tell of her trip Sunday morning at the Wesley Gleaners' Sunday School Class of the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. T. J. Smith has returned after a visit with her daughter, Anna Watt Smith in Memphis. Polly and Noble Morse left last Thursday for Daytona Beach, Florida where they will spend the winter.

Among those who attended the Little Rock-Tilghman High football game Saturday night in Paducah were Montez and Horton Baird, Pearl and Happy Hogan, Dr. Danny Baird, Charlie Thomas, Jasper Vowell and Buck Bushart. Dick Cummings, who moved from Fulton to Paducah recently was at the game and all of the Fulton "boys" enjoyed seeing him.

Ruth Scott has returned home after spending a week in Tuscaloosa, Alabama, visiting her sister, Mrs. Harry Cook. Ruth attended the homecoming game between the University of Alabama and Mississippi State. Mrs. Cook is house mother at the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity house. June Grayson of Russellville, Ky. and Janet Allen were weekend guests of Janet's parents, Lynette and Leonard Allen at their home on Taylor Street. The girls are students and roommates at Murray State.

Joe Browder Williams and his lovely wife, Susan, and little son, John, left Wednesday morning after a visit with Joe's parents, Ruth and Clyde Williams on Browder Street. The popular Williams family live in Hastings, Nebraska now, but they are making plans to live in Princeton, N. J. in the near future. Joe, who is with Opinion Research Corporation was recently transferred to the New Jersey City.

Winnie (Mrs. V. J.) Voegeli is the happiest one! She's a GRANDMOTHER! Winkie Voegeli Powell and hubby, Glenn Ray, have a new SON—and they've named him David Michael. Winnie is with the Powells at their home in Ruston, Louisiana where Glenn Ray is attending college. Our congratulations to Winkie and Glenn Ray. Methinks he'll be a fine addition to the Fulton High Bulldogs—one of these days.

PADUCAH CONCERT MEMBERS TO HEAR THEODOR UPPMAN

Theodor Uppman, personable baritone star of concert, radio, television—and the Metropolitan Opera, will present the second concert of the current series in Paducah on Saturday, November 10.

As a singer of extraordinary capabilities and achievements, baritone Uppman has proved to be one of the most exciting opera and concert stars to arrive on the international music scene in a long time.

During the 1955-56 Metropolitan Opera season, Uppman had one of the most triumphant successes of his career as Papageno in the company's new production of Mozart's "The Magic Flute," Bruno Walter conducting. Of this outstanding performance, the critic of the New York Journal-American, Miles Kastendieck, commented, "It was Uppman's evening. He made a hit both as a singer and an actor. His Papageno had personality, style and spirit."

A highlight of Mr. Uppman's 1956-57 season will be his appearance opposite lovely prima-donna Patrice Munsel in the Metropolitan's premiere production of Offenbach's whimsical operetta "La Perichole." He will also repeat his portrayal of Papageno in "The Magic Flute," with the company.

The concert will be held at Tilghman Auditorium in Paducah at 8:00 p. m.

Raymond Campbell and children; Mr. and Mrs. Irby Hammond and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oliver, Cynthia and Montette.

Too, she was presented a corsage of beautiful, deep lavender mums that set off Jane's costume frock to a "tee."

On Wednesday of this week four Fulton hostesses joined in another lovely luncheon when Mrs. Winfrey Shepherd, Mrs. Clyde Williams, Sr., Mrs. Katherine Browder and Mrs. Clarice Thorpe entertained a group of ladies at 1:30.

On Thursday morning, Mary Swann Bushart, Mrs. Uel Killbrew and Mrs. Charles Fields were hostesses to a breakfast at nine-thirty in the morning.

All of the parties have been lovely and happy events, for one of the loveliest brides of the late Fall season.

Miss Jane White Is Inspiration For Many Lovely Parties

The happiest, loveliest lady around here these days is Jane White, whose wedding to Matt Debor of Lexington will be solemnized on November 24. Jane has been the inspiration for so many lovely parties in her honor which of course makes Jane happy. On the other hand her hostesses are extremely happy too for Jane is always the gracious, charming honoree.

Last Saturday Jane was stunning in a black Carlye frock from her trousseau when Mrs. M. W. Haws and her daughter, Mrs. Rodney Miller, entertained at luncheon for

Schools For A Strong America

For the beginning of our nation thoughtful men saw the importance of education for the preservation of our liberties. The American people believe that education is a necessity, not a luxury. They believe that a strong nation cannot be built upon a weak foundation, and they believe that the schools help to build that foundation.

It is difficult to point out the specific sources of a nation's strength; but the nation's citizens, especially in a democracy, are clearly its most important resource. Producing the kind of citizens worthy of the freedoms of a democracy and capable of assuming its responsibilities has always been the goal of our schools. To date, this monumental task has been performed quite successfully.

By providing education for practically every American child, the school has given a common background to diverse economic, social, and racial groups. It has helped to make one nation of a vast geographical area populated by widely different people. At the same time, universal free education has made it possible for the individual, regardless of his background, to cultivate his particular talents and interest. Public schools have sent competent leaders into all walks of life.

The schools have helped all American youth to acquire the habits, attitudes, and experiences necessary to take part in the activities of their communities and their nation. Children participate in self government in their classroom and in the school. They work together on common problems. They learn to respect the rights of every other individual in the group. Future voting citizens study American history and institutions on many levels in both the elementary and secondary schools, for one of the most important tasks of the school is to give these future citizens some understanding of the unique character of our democratic heritage. Experiences in the meaning and methods of democracy begin early and continue throughout the child's school life.

Another task of the school is to produce healthy, skilled workers who can take their places in the economy with the best results both to themselves and to the nation. Our industrial society has made it possible for us to enjoy standards of living superior to those of any other people. As this society becomes increasingly complex, however, both our economic welfare and our security become more dependent upon an adequate of skilled manpower.

Education is an investment in citizens, in people. In spite of the increasing demands made upon them, the schools have continued to make important contributions to the nation, but they must have more support to meet the problems facing them. Shortages in buildings and qualified teachers continue to deprive nearly 900,000 pupils of full-time schooling. Overcrowded classes in some areas, where not enough qualified teachers are available, are depriving many pupils of the full benefits of modern programs of education. So many adult citizens of the future cannot be deprived of full educational benefits without serious consequences to the nation.

American Education Week was set up to inform the public of the accomplishment of the public schools and to assure co-operation and support in meeting their needs. Good schools require the thoughtful support of every citizen. They also cost money, but the dividends are many times the investment.

Here's One National Week We Endorse

Many of the problems in the world, as well as in local communities, arise from honest misunderstandings — misunderstandings that can be corrected if all concerned sincerely try to appreciate the problems facing people in other fields of endeavor. Regrettably, farm and city people are often unsympathetic—sometimes even antagonistic—toward each other. This friction is usually due to a lack of understanding of the other fellow's problems.

Realizing that prejudices and bad feeling often exist between separate groups of the national economy, leaders in agriculture, business and industry hope to correct many of the misunderstandings existing between farm and city people through National Farm-City Week. This year Farm-City Week will be observed from November 16 through November 22. It has the active support of the nation's leading agricultural, civic, business and industrial organizations, with Kiwanis International as the coordinating agency. By promoting better understanding of problems of farm and city people it is hoped to emphasize their interdependence in today's closely knit economy, ultimately ly achieving the goal of realization by all concerned that agriculture, business and industry are, indeed, partners in progress.

This is a splendid opportunity to build better relationships between town and country neighbors. It is a time when farm and city people can start to get better acquainted with each other. It is a time to emphasize that mutual understanding between farm and city people is vital to the continuation of this nation's strength and prosperity. It is a time to drive home the fact that industry is dependent on farm people, who are a substantial market for many manufactured products. It is a time to demonstrate that city people are the farmer's chief customers.

This newspaper is happy to endorse National Farm-City Week and to urge all its readers to start now to make an effort to get better acquainted with the other fellow and to try to understand his problems. If this is done, it will be easier to understand that the welfare of one group is so dependent on the other that there should never be any antagonism between farm and city people.

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK

Is TV A Waste of Time?

By Monsignor Edwin B. Broderick
THE AVERAGE AMERICAN child, according to recent surveys, spends about 18 hours each week watching television.

There are no available figures on adults, but when you consider that cities like Boston and Chicago have more TV sets than bathtubs and telephones, you can surmise that grown-ups are not too far behind.

MANY PESSIMISTS are unduly alarmed about this television trend. They talk about a "race of spectators" and a "generation of teletvillagers" in the making. And you have all met the fellow who, biting his lips as though his shoes were too tight, solemnly announces he "never watches TV," and calls it "a waste of time." But you do not have to be extremists to ask questions about TV. The very fact that someone considers it a waste of time should make you ask yourself what you and your children get—or lose—from your hours before the set.

"AM I SATISFIED with the programs," is an important question to ask yourself. If the answer is "No," then it is time you did something about them.

Many parents have complained to me about some TV shows. They have seen morally offensive programs and didn't know what else to do except flip the dial. Others didn't even do that much, for I have had viewers give blow by blow, quote by quote, descriptions of TV shows that they and their families should not have been watching. Remember, getting out of your cushioned chair to flick the TV dial is sometimes more than just an inconvenience; it can be a moral necessity.

FORTUNATELY the television industry is aware of its obligation. It has voluntarily drawn up its own Code which blueprints the industry's responsibility for the advancement of culture and education, for decency and decorum in production. Should you consider some show offensive, drop a polite note to the NARTB in Washington.

Speaking of criticism: Did you ever write a thank-you letter to the sponsor or to the station for a good program? You should. Being as alert to praise as to condemn is one way you can help make TV better.

The Palestine Homemakers met with Mrs. Allie Browder Friday, with eleven members and three visitors present.

The club was glad to welcome Mrs. Ethel Browder as a new member. Mesdames Allie Browder and C. L. Drysdale, home improvement leaders, gave out the major subject lesson "Wise Choice of Wall, Finish and Wood Work."

Well—the last bell rings and I start for the door,
My head's a ringing and my feet are sore,
I taught six full hours, and my day is made,
But I still have 300 papers to grade!
You teach six full hours and what do you get?
Another day older and deeper in debt,
I'll go to St. Peter, but I can't stay,
I gotta get back for the P. T. A. ! ! !

The Cayce F. H. A. chapter had their installation service, October 11, 1956. Officers installed were as follows: president—Sandra Hale; first vice—second vice-president—Joyce Burns; treasurer—Janice Downey; parliamentarian—Brenda Harris; historian—Annell Fowler; recreation leader—Agnes Ferguson; song leader—Judy Jeffress; reporter—Clara McMurry.

The incoming members were initiated Monday by really dressing up! Each wore a "toe sack" for a dress, one high heel and sock; and a man's shoe and stocking. And their hair style was simply out of this world! It was parted off with ribbons tied around each lock. Make-up was on one side of the face. Each of the incoming members had to address the older member as "Miss". There were some rules made and if any were broken, there was a penalty of one cent.

Who says dream cars never come true?

Dynamite from Detroit

Coming! America's first production dream car—it will influence the shape of cars for years to come.

The old Detroit rule was to introduce new features gradually, to make little changes each year. Sometimes a new grille, an engine improvement, or new colors and trim.

We broke that rule. In fact, we broke all the rules. This is dynamite!

For you are not the only one who has dreamed of a totally modern car, a car that has everything you find at automobile shows, in illustrations, and in custom-built experimental cars.

Detroit has had that dream, too. And that's why the 1957 Mercury is the car that has honestly excited the most car-jaded, the most sophisticated of Detroit's automotive experts.

When you see the new 1957 Mercury, you'll see America's first full-production dream car—a car that will influence the shape of cars for years to come.

You'll see a dream car you can own and drive—a car that has far more than startling years-ahead beauty.

THE BIG M for '57 boasts dream-car features never before found outside a designer's dreambook: a Key-board Control that makes ordinary push-button driving old-fashioned; an exclusive Floating Ride with a revolutionary new cushioning action you have to feel to believe. There are Mercury "firsts" everywhere you look. A Power-Booster Engine Fan in the Montclair series that saves horsepower other cars waste. And many more Mercury exclusives.

You'll see THE BIG M—the new Mercury for 1957—soon. You'll see it. You'll drive it. The first dream car that can be yours. The dynamite is on its way from Detroit to your dealer's—now!

SOUTHERN STATES TO HOLD MEETING IN LEXINGTON, KY.

Annual Gathering Being Held First Time In Lexington

For the first time since Southern States Cooperative extended its services into Kentucky in 1945, the organization—which is the nation's largest farmer cooperative, from the standpoint of membership—will hold its Annual Stockholders Meeting in Lexington, Ky., November 15-16. All business sessions of the 33rd annual event will be held in the University of Kentucky's Memorial Coliseum.

This marks the second time in the history of the cooperative—which was founded in Richmond, Va., in 1923 as the Virginia Seed Service—that the Annual Stockholders Meeting has been held away from Richmond. The only other time was in 1945 when the session was held in Baltimore.

Delegates and Cooperative Service Agency personnel that will attend the meeting will represent around 500 communities in the states of Virginia, Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Delaware. The Cooperative has more than 330,000 members in this six-state area.

Veterans Aide To Be Here On November 16

B. D. Nisbet, a Contact Representative of the Kentucky Disabled Ex-Service Men's Board, will be present on Friday, Nov. 16 at the American Legion Home in Fulton to assist veterans and their dependents with claims for benefits due them as a result of their military service.

Cow Population Is At All-Time Low

The present number of dairy cows on U. S. farms is at the lowest point in 20 years, but milk production is at an all-time high.

Prices paid farmers for milk have risen above the 1955 figure and seem likely to continue higher during the rest of the year. However, feed prices have also risen but not in proportion to milk prices. Total receipts from milk for the year will be near record, reflecting higher price for milk and record production.

WYATT'S PHILOSOPHY

Tennessee Coach Bowden Wyatt's philosophy of football is precise timing and stressing the fundamentals of hard blocking and tackling. Coach Wyatt believes good conditioning breeds confidence in a player as a game wears on. He believes in using a minimum number of plays from the single-wing offense and feels the quick kick is one of the most potent weapons in football.

127th Engineer Battalion, Broyles entered the Army in February 1955. He completed basic training at Fort Chaffee, Ark., and arrived in Europe last March.

Broyles attended Riverside High School.

The 1956 football season for Fulton and South Fulton has ended. It ended in a blaze of glory for Fulton High. The Bulldogs must be congratulated for their victorious season. Coach Charles Thomas's squad sports a record of six wins and only three losses. Their greatest moments were achieved last Friday night in the finale with South Fulton, taking the cross-town rivalry in stride to the tune of 33 to 6. To coin a phrase so ably stated by Longfellow, "nothing now is left, but majestic memory."

I think also it should be put down in black and white, that the South Fulton Red Devils under the guidance of Donald Nelson had a very commendable season. The final record is 2 wins, 6 losses, and 1 tie. Victories were registered over Ridgely, Alamo, and the tie was with Sharon. Now the cry for Basketball is ringing out from the two schools, with both to field fine teams.

Football, however, is still going on all around the country with some excellent games carded for this weekend. First a review of last week's pickins. We enjoyed our best week in a long time with 44 right and 1 wrong for a percentage of a highly respectable .815. For the season it's 274 right and 93 wrong for a batting average of .746. It should be a little easier going into the home stretch. If it isn't, I'll be advertising my crystal ball on the Trading Post. Now for this week's peek into the future.

KENTUCKY HIGH SCHOOL STURGIS 19, HOPKINSVILLE 14. This is the top game of the week in West Kentucky. Should be close with the stout band of Golden Bears emerging victorious.

MAYFIELD 14, OWENSBORO CATHOLIC 0. Last week, the Cards downed a fine Memphis Catholic team and seems to have found the winning formula. If Catholic is held scoreless, it will be the first goose-egg inflicted by Mayfield this year.

In the other West Kentucky games, Caldwell County should beat Russellville by 12 points, Henderson to take Daviess County by 14, powerful Madisonville to remain unbeaten by taking Henderson County in a breeze, equally strong Morganfield over a completely outclassed Marion team by 48 points, Murray by the same margin over Trigg, and Paducah Tighman to win by 33 points Saturday night over weak Bowling Green.

TENNESSEE HIGH SCHOOL COVINGTON 27, BROWNSVILLE 7. Covington is the class of West Tennessee. Brownsville Tomcats not expected to put up too much opposition.

RIPLEY 14, HUMBOLT 12. The Rams to play favored Ripley on even terms throughout the game with the extra points to provide the margin of difference.

DRESDEN 20, MARTIN 14. The final game for these two schools should be close with the up and down Lions to be up again.

In the other games in West Tennessee, Friday night it will be Sharon 21 over Dover, Union City 21 over Milan, Jackson 12 points over Somers-

Florida Orange Juice Everywhere

Big juicy oranges are coming from Florida now and will be abundant all fall and winter. Orange juice is the best natural source of vitamin C and most economical, so drink it often to ward off colds this active season.

Luckily, Florida orange juice is available all year because top quality fruit is processed at its peak and few if any nutrients are lost because of the quick and expert methods used. Pictured are the various forms modern orange juice takes.

The handy No. 303 can and large economical 46-ounce cans of single strength juice can be stocked on pantry shelves with no thought of spoilage. Frozen orange concentrate cans tuck neatly away in freezer compartments at home and can be reconstituted with ease. The familiar 6-ounce can has a sister-pack nowadays, an economical and convenient 12-ounce.

Alongside milk containers in dairy counters and delivery trucks across the country is a new form of America's favorite breakfast beverage. Called chilled orange juice, it is freshly squeezed, then poured into waxed containers to be rushed to consumers along with their dairy supplies. Another variety is labeled store-squeezed; many super-markets conduct juicing operations during the fresh fruit season, bottle or jar it for immediate sale. When properly covered and refrigerated, both these forms of juice retain flavor and vitamin C content for several days.

ville, Tiptonville 40 over Ridgely and Dyersburg 27 over Halls.

COLLEGE

EAST: ARMY 41, WILLIAM & MARY 13. The Cadets like to roll up a big score when possible and this week it's possible.

PITTSBURG 34, NOTRE DAME 14. It's evident that double figures are commonplace this year against the Irish Brennan's squad is no match for the powerful Panthers.

In other top attractions in the East, it's Penn State to take Boston College by at least 14 points, Colgate to smother Bucknell by 40, Columbia to upset Dartmouth by 1, Brown to upset Cornell by 6, Princeton 21 over Harvard, Syracuse 28 over Holy Cross and Yale to plaster Penn by 20 points.

SOUTH: GEORGIA TECH 14, TENNESSEE 13. If it weren't for Oklahoma this game would decide a national champion. Here we predict the Vols bubble to burst, but not too loudly. Tennessee will probably still go to the Sugar Bowl on New Year's Day and Tech will most likely choose the Cotton.

KENTUCKY 21, VANDY 7. The Commodores haven't been too impressive since they defeated Alabama five weeks ago, and the Cats remember last year's massacre.

DUKE 20, NAVY 7. The Mid-dies are reading the press notices from last week and will find the Blue Devils rar-ing to go. In other games in Dixie we find Tulane to down Alabama by 13 points, Auburn over Mississippi State by 14, Clemson 14 over Maryland, Florida 12 over Georgia, LSU to win its first game by 7 points over Oklahoma A & M, Ole Miss outclassing Memphis State by 48, Virginia to upset North Carolina State, Villanova 33 over Citadel, West Virginia 21 over VMI, and Virginia Tech to win over Wake Forest by 7 points.

MIDWEST: IOWA 14, MINNESOTA 13. The Hawkeyes to upset Minnesota and plan to make trip to Pasadena.

MICHIGAN STATE 28, PURDUE 7. Spartans will not be ambushed again this season.

OKLAHOMA 56, IOWA STATE 0. The pride of the land could make it 100 to 0 just as easy.

In the other notable games it's Northwestern to upset

Wisconsin by 1 point, Colorado to win trip to Orange Bowl by taking Missouri, Ohio State 13 over Indiana, Michigan 7 over Illinois, Cincinnati 6 over Wichita, Detroit 28 over Drake, Kansas 7 over Nebraska, Kansas State 3 over Marquette, and Houston 7 over Tulsa.

SOUTHWEST & FAR WEST: TEXAS A & M 21 SMU 13. Jack Pardee and Co. to annex Southwest Crown and play host in the Cotton Bowl.

ARKANSAS 27, RICE 19. The Hogs to bounce back to upset favored Rice. Gerald Nesbitt, fine fullback for Arkansas to be back in action, and that will spell the difference. OREGON STATE 21, STANFORD 14. State smells the scent of Roses in the air and will upset Stanford even though John Brodie will be pitching strikes.

And rounding out the other games: Baylor to defeat helpless Texas by 12 points, Texas Christian to rebound at Texas Tech's expense by 34 points, Southern Cal to win over California by 14, Oregon 21 over Washington State, Washington to upset UCLA by 1, unbeaten Wyoming to stay that way, 48 over Montana, Utah 7 over Colorado A & M, and Idaho 7 over Utah State. Next week, I'll return with more sidelights and review of important games as Tennessee-Ole Miss, Michigan State-Minnesota, Ohio State-Iowa, and Arkansas-SMU.

OUT ON A LIMB

By Scamp McCulloch

"Of Ollie was showin' a city couple through his pasture the other day. 'Why of it,' the lady asked, 'that some of your cows have horns and some haven't?'"

"Well, there's three cases in which they lack horns," Ollie said. "Some are born without them, some are dehorned and some have their horns knocked off fighting." "And what about that different-looking one in the corner?" asked the lady.

"Ah," said Ollie, "that is case number four. That's a horse."

The profession of forestry has grown steadily for the past 50 years, they tell me, till 1950. That year our forestry schools graduated 2321 young foresters—but by last year the number had dropped to 829! That means about 1200 forestry jobs in both government and industry will go unfilled this year, 'cause there are no trained fellows to fill them!

I reckon we're going to have to tell our young folks about the rewards of going into this important field—joining the 16,000 trained foresters who are now working in our forests. "Who can ever forget a first visit to a Mount Hood National Forest, a Clatsop Tree Farm, a Phillips Brooks Forest, or a Gaylord Plantation?" one forester says. "Trees at work for a variety of purposes—wood, water, game, fish, recreation and domestic stock. The forester who looks out over his forest under multiple use is serene in the knowledge that he's servin' all mankind, now and forever." Mighty fine profession, and it deserves the best we can give it!

Like most tree farmers, I do a lot of bucking. That's when you cut a log into sections of a desired length. "Course, when you're buckin', it's always best to stand uphill from logs you've already bucked—so they won't fall down on you! And you always want to give plenty of warning to other fellers in the vicinity of a log that may have a tendency to roll after bucking. For this work, you need a saw whose bar is at least half the diameter of the logs you're cuttin'."

"Yep," Ollie Haverill was tellin' me, "my father was a great politician in his day."

"I didn't know that," I said, "what did he run for?"

"The border!" Haverill replied.

So long, folks, see you soon!

PLEASANT VIEW

Mrs. George Elliott

MRS. PATTERSON IS FREED 'AFTER 3RD MURDER TRIAL

Former Waitress Says She Shot In Self-Defense

BENTON, Ky.—Mrs. Willie Mae Patterson of Woodland Mills, former Union City waitress, was found innocent of the charge of murdering her former husband, Clyde C. Patterson.

The jury deliberated an hour and 20 minutes and brought in the verdict at 11:55 a. m., ending the third trial of Mrs. Patterson.

The first trial at Hickman, Ky., in May 1955, and the second one at Benton last January resulted in deadlocked juries.

Mr. Patterson, who was the operator of the Four Points service station on the Jordan highway at the Middle road in Kentucky, was shot to death at the station the early morning of Sept. 12, 1954. Mrs. Patterson was charged with firing the shots.

Her defense attorneys, C. W. Miles III of Union City and Milton C. Anderson of Wick-

MARTIN FARMER IS FOUND GUILTY OF KILLING

Thin, gaunt 68-year-old Willis C. Chambers, retired Martin farmer, was found guilty Friday of voluntary manslaughter in the death of his 34-year-old son-in-law, C. L. Bramlett, of the Pleasant Valley community near Union City. He was sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary. Defense attorneys indicated they would appeal.

The jury retired at 5:50 p. m. and at 6:32 brought in the verdict, the penalty for which is 2 to 10 years, cutting the charge from first degree murder. The trial began Thursday.

Mr. Chambers was accused of slaying Mr. Bramlett with a blast from a 12 gauge shotgun as he, Bramlett, stood at the front door of the Chambers home at 136 Meek Street, Martin, at 12:10 a. m. Sunday, Aug. 12th.

Principal witness for the defense was Mrs. Violet Bramlett, wife of the deceased and daughter of the defendant. Mrs. Bramlett's testimony traced the course of her life with Mr. Bramlett and the events which led to the August shooting. Her testimony in most respects corroborated that of the defendant.

liffe, Ky., contended that Mr. Patterson threatened to kill her and she fired in self defense.

Some 20 character witnesses for Mrs. Patterson were scheduled to testify Wednesday afternoon, but only 10 were brought to the stand and all of them said her character was "good."

H. A. Lovett, Jr., son of H. A. Lovett, Sr., the judge hearing the case, and attorney for the commonwealth of Kentucky, and C. W. Miles III, attorney for the defendant, presented their arguments to the jury.
